

Q4 BEERS

AVAILABLE IN WINTER

MAD ELF ALE | ALE BREWED WITH HONEY & CHERRIES

(Early October Release)

We Taste: cherries, local honey, chocolate malt, subtle spices

The Mad Elf is here with its nuanced blend of sweet & tart cherries, Pennsylvania honey, chocolate malt & a hint of mischief. The essence of this legendary holiday ale, along with its ruby red glow, is born from five varieties of tree-ripened cherries. Local wildflower honey sweetens the celebration, & a spicy Belgian yeast adds subtle notes of cinnamon, clove & allspice. It's not the holidays until you've had your first Mad Elf.

Availability: 12oz. bottles & cans; 1/2 & 1/6 kegs

BLIZZARD OF HOPS | WINTER IPA

(Mid October Release)

We Taste: spruce tips, pineapple, orange rind

We created this winter IPA to toast hop growers around the world for another successful harvest. This storm of hoppy citrus and pine notes is a bright reminder the end of the Hop Cycle is on the beginning.

Availability: 12oz. bottles & cans; 1/2 & 1/6 kegs

MAD ELF GRAND CRU | ALE BREWED WITH HONEY & CHERRIES

(Mid October Release)

We Taste: tart cherry, brown sugar, clove, subtle peppercorn

If you know Tröegs, you know the Mad Elf – the legendary holiday ale that helped put our little brewery on the map. In your hands is the Director's Cut. Tart Balaton cherries make all the difference. Flush with supporting notes of brown sugar, cinnamon and clove, this beer begs to be shared. Take a 4-pack home, gather your friends, and cherish the cherries.

Availability: 12.7-oz. cork and cage bottles & 1/6 kegs

DOUBLE BLIZZARD | DOUBLE INDIA PALE ALE

(Mid-November Release)

We Taste: huge citrus and pineapple notes, soft pine

This is Blizzard of Hops turned up to 11. For Double Blizzard, we used a cooler temperature for the kettle hop additions, softening the character of the Centennial, Chinook and El Dorado. On the cold side, we dry-hopped with four pounds per barrel of Chinook and Galaxy. At 8.3% ABV, we're into semi-hazy Double IPA territory, and we like it here.

Availability: 16oz. cans
